Annual Meeting of Liberal Association.

The annual meeting of the Stony Plain Liberal Ass'n has been called by the president, Fred Francey, for the afternoon of Friday, April 11th. The members will gather in the Town Hall, and it is expected the hall will be filled. Among other matters receiving attention will be the election of officers for the ensuing term, including an election for membership on the important executive committee, on which there is at present several vacancies. The dozen delegates from here who attended the provincial convention at Calgary last week, when a new leader was chosen, returned home filled with enthusiasm concerning the prospects of the Liberal party at the forthcoming provincial election. So it is expected this annual meeting will prove to be a record-breaker, as there will be a big turnout of representatives from the outlying districts.

Sporting Notes

Young Mr. Heichen's many friends in town and district are loath to see him depart from our midst, and a strenuous effort is now being made to keep this popular young sportsman here. The proposal is to establish a sporting goods store in Stony and put Eric in as manager, his many friends subscribing the capital necessary for the enterprise. Stock will consist of baseball, basketball, football, tennis accessories, radios, harmonicas and Jacknives.

Mrs Sarah Ingle Buried

Mrs Sarah Ann Ingle (relict of the late Nicholas E Ingle) passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs Gordon, in Edmonton, Thurs. March 27, at the age of 87 years.

"Grandma" Ingle, as she was affectionately called by all the younger folk, was one of the oldtimers of the town, and was well liked and highly respected by all who knew her. Deceased had been in receipt of a pension from the U S Government, her late husband having fought in the Northern army at the time of the Civil War 1861-5.

She is survived by 5 sons: Leonard and Arthur of Stony Plain; Franklin, of Portland, Oregon; John E. of Rosevear; Wesley, of Los Angeles, Cal; and 3 daughters: Mrs M J Gordon, Edmonton; Mrs W Hopper, Portland, Oregon; and Mrs G B Cross, Gibbons. The funeral took place in Edmonton on Saturday afternoon, and was attended by a number of old friends in the town and district. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Services at the residence and at the graveside were conducted by Rev W Hollingsworth, of the United church, Southside.

There's "Gold" In The Golden Rule

A heading in a business magazine reads: "There's Gold In The Golden Rule" and the accompanying article proves it. There is no doubt that following the Golden Rule, in business as well as out of it, in the long run will be more profitable than otherwise, and by this we mean materially profitable. There is a principle recognized by modern business that the business man, to be permanently successful, must contribute to the profit and welfare of those who deal with him, those from whom he buys as well as those to whom he sells. And in a measure, this is recognition of the Golden Rule.

But here comes the rub. Is the Golden Rule observed, even to such a limited extent, for itself or for the "gold" which may be mined from it. Is it observed because it is the right thing to do or because it is the more expedient, the more profitable thing? Are we to "do unto others" from pure delight in the doing, or because we wish to have them do the same to us? The real beauty, and force, and advantage of the Golden Rule lie in our attitude toward it. Its efficacy is in itself and in what prompts us to practice it.

Just to follow the Golden Rule because there is "gold in it" would be much the same as being honest because it is the "best policy." Neither motive would rate high among the things considered admirable. To follow the Golden Rule because it charts the inherently right course in our dealings with our fellows and because we wish to be and to do right, is in the highest degree commendable. But to follow it merely or chiefly because "there's gold in it"—well, not something we would care to boast about. The greatest profit which comes from living the Golden Rule cannot be set down in dollars and cents.

Throughout Western Canada our people have very largely accepted and adopted the principle of co-operation in connection with their economic relations and business. Unfortunately, it is not quite so generally accepted and acted upon in other community relationships. The question, therefore, naturally arises: Has this acceptance of the principles found in the Golden Rule resulted from a belief that "there's gold in it," rather than from a conviction that co-operation is indeed the better way for all concerned? Have we established, and are we maintaining, our great co-operative enterprises solely on a dollar and cents basis, or are a majority of our people earnestly striving to, in this way, make some contribution to the welfare of others?

Many fine and lofty sentiments,—the sentiments of the Golden Rule,—have been uttered by advocates of co-operation, and we are convinced that scores of men and women have joined co-operative organizations, not because they felt that they themselves would reap any particular benefits, but because they felt such organizations would be the means of benefiting others and the country as a whole. They are practicing the Golden Rule because they believe it to be right, not because there may be some "gold" in it for them.

And if co-operation is to live and continue as a vital force in the life and activities of this country, if it is to grow and develop as a great compelling influence and force, not only in an economic sense but in all our community life, it must be through a general acceptance of the view, and its practice in everyday life, that selfishness is wrong and unselfishness is right; that the welfare and happiness of others is our concern as well as theirs; that the Golden Rule is to be practised not because there is "gold" in it for us, but because it is the only correct rule by which to measure our lives and acts; that we must be honest with each other, not because it is "the best policy" but because it is right. If we expect others to accord honesty to us in our convictions, we must likewise recognize and believe in the honesty of convictions entertained by others.

True co-operation is founded on the Golden Rule. It is its underlying principle. It is the only foundation upon which our great co-operative organizations can safely build, not because there is "gold" in it for anybody, but because it is the only safe rule for human conduct and intercourse.

A Matter Of Opinion

It is announced that Ontario and Quebec are to have "new penitentiaries which will be models for the world." This brings to mind the present some years ago of a Grandford, Ontario, grand jury, in which it was stated that conditions at the local jail were such as to make it "one of the most desirable places of residence in the city."

New Species Of Whitefish

Newly Discovered Member Of Finny Tribe Found In Manitoba

Discovery of a new species of whitefish in Clear Lake, Manitoba, is announced by A. Bajkov, of Manitoba University. The new species has been named Coregonus Odonoghuei, in honor of Dr. C. H. O'Donoghue, formerly of the faculty of Manitoba University. The newly-discovered fish is common in Clear Lake. It lives at a great depth during the summer, coming to the surface only in the spawning season.

DO YOU FEAR A HEARTY MEAL?

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Tone Up Your Stomach Making Mealtime a Pleasure

Are you afraid of meal-time? Does eating distress you? Would you rather go without food. That is the condition of many due entirely to indigestion. There can be no perfect digestion—hence no enjoyment of meal-time—unless you have rich, red blood. This pure blood is necessary to tone up your stomach and make it capable of properly digesting the food.

Many so-called stomach remedies merely try to digest your food for you. That is a mistake—nature should do that work and if nature does not do it serious results are bound to follow. Tame your stomach by driving out the poisons that are in the blood. Make new rich blood and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal—meals will once more be a pleasure.

The one sure medicine to enrich the blood, restore strength and banish stomach trouble and indigestion is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Concerning them Mrs. Wm. T. Thompson, Brussels, Ont., says: "For years I suffered with indigestion, headaches and dizzy spells. I tried a great many so-called remedies without relief. As a farmer's wife, with three little girls, it was almost impossible to be idle and I just dragged myself through my work. I suffered so I was actually afraid of meal time. A friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and although I had lost faith in ever being well again, I purchased a supply and began taking them. Gradually the dizziness and headaches left me. My appetite improved and soon I was able to enjoy my meals and in weight and my health in general is better than it has been for years. I feel I owe much to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for they relieved me of all my misery."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Test Is Satisfactory

The annual rest of the herds in the Fraser Valley, B.C., for T.B. is being carried on at present by about twenty veterinarians. More than half of all the dairy cows in the province (55,000) are located within this area and in the last test only three quarters of one per cent. re-acted.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Town Planning Advantage Shown

An Attractive Community Depends Greatly Upon the Appearance Of Its Streets

The following advantages that accrue from a systematic effort at town planning are given by Mr. Stewart Young, of the Town Planning Department of the Saskatchewan Government:

The general appearance of any community should have a definite way and means by which more agreeable surroundings can be produced are analyzed, it will be found that an attractive community depends greatly upon the appearance of its streets.

The appearance of a business street may be marred by the use of the sidewalks for storage or advertising purposes. Curb gas pumps do not add to the appearance of any street and should be prohibited. Electric light and telephone wires, when placed on a street tend to give it a ragged appearance. They should be placed underground in conduits or on lanes.

The appearance of the residential streets of any community reflects the mental attitude of the citizens. Every community should have a definite policy in respect of tree planting on residential streets. The boulevard system should be used.

Usually a sidewalk four and a half feet in width placed at a distance of about two feet from the street line with a graded roadway about twenty-four feet in width is sufficient to accommodate all traffic on residential streets. The intervening space between the sidewalk and the vehicle track should be planted with trees spaced about twenty feet apart, and alternated slow and fast growing.

Several advantages are to be gained by this method of planting. Fast growing trees mature in a period of from twenty to twenty-five years, at the end of which time the slow growing tree has reached a stage where it becomes useful. Moreover, insects seldom attack more than one variety of tree in a season. The result is obvious where a street is planted entirely with one variety of trees.

Deliver Tea By Plane

Tea Freight, Begun On Ox-Cart, Ends With Trip On Aeroplane

It is a far cry from the slow-moving, primitive, high-wheeled cart, hauled by oxen along the roads of Ceylon, to a speedy aeroplane in the winter sky over Lake Erie, but many of the people of Pelee Island are now drinking tea, carried there by air, that joggled along in an ox-cart under a tropical sun in Ceylon only a few weeks ago.

The Salada Tea Company, because of the freezing over of Lake Erie, between Pelee and the mainland, recently shipped several hundred pounds of tea by air, in order to replenish the diminishing stock of a certain grocer on the island.

Apple Trees For Prairie Farms

Sixteen Varieties Of Apples Found Suitable For The West

After fifteen years of seed planting the experimental work of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has developed sixteen varieties of apple trees suited to the climatic conditions of the Prairie Provinces. Of these varieties two have been graded "very good" and four "good." Horticultural experts point out, however, that it will take several more tree generations to evolve the ideal species. Prairie farmers can help in this work by getting seed from the Experimental Station at Morden, Man., for planting in their own gardens.

Geographical Features Named After Indian Chiefs Are Numerous From Coast To Coast

Geographical features named after Indian chiefs are numerous in Canada. It is exactly 100 years since the first appearance on a map of the name Petawawa. According to the records of the Geographic Board of Canada, Petawawa River occurs on a map made in 1829 by Colonel John By, who built the Rideau Canal.

The name is now applied to the military camp on the Petawawa River in Renfrew County, Ontario. The Indian chief, Petawawa, is said to have hunted in the region and the meaning of the name is "the sound is coming" or "approaching sound."

In some cases an Indian has been commemorated by a name given him by the whites. There are several examples of this nature in New Brunswick, where Barnaby River, Bartibog River, Cain River, and Taxis River bear the names of Indian chiefs who once lived on these streams.

In Quebec the town of Donnacona recalls the "Lord of Canada," who was taken to France by Jacques Cartier, in 1534, and died there. In Manitoba, Peguis post office takes its name from a Saulteaux chief who, in 1835, was granted an annuity of $25 by the Hudson's Bay Company. He was a friend of the colonists of the Red River Settlement (Winnipeg), and well disposed towards the whites.

In Saskatchewan, Cutknife Hill, according to tradition, commemorates a Sarcee who was killed on it in battle with Cree. In Alberta, Crowfoot Village, Mekoast railway station, and Chiniki Lake, are a tribute to the worth of Indian chiefs who on the coming of white men ceded their title to vast acres and forsook tribal warfare. Crowfoot, head chief of the Blackfeet, was a keen business man, not a warrior, who kept his tribe at peace with the whites. Mekoast, or Red Crow, head chief of the Southern Bloods, was loyal throughout the 1885 rebellion. Chiniki was a Soney Indian chief.

Kanaskis pass, in the Rockies, commemorates an Indian who made a wonderful recovery from the blow of an axe. Pouce-Coupe River, in Alberta and British Columbia bears the name of a Beaver Indian chief who settled on the river with 500 followers.

The name is French for "cut thumb." In British Columbia, Kinbasket Lake, an expansion of the Columbia River, was so named in 1866 by Walter Moberly, C.E., after a Shuswap Indian chief who was of service to him on an exploratory trip. Nicola Lake commemorates an Indian chief whose other name, Nwisternekin, meaning "walking grizzly bear," well describes his character.

To Grow Early Potatoes

B.C. Association Imports Certified Seed From Prince Edward Island

For the purpose of supplying the prairie markets with early potatoes, some fifty farmers on Lulu Island, British Columbia, have formed the Richmond Early Potato Growers' Association. Each member will put in a special plot of two or three acres of early potatoes, which will be planted simultaneously at the end of the present month, so that they will be ready for market at the same time. Irish Cobbler has been selected as the variety to use and a car-load of certified seed has been imported from Prince Edward Island.

Plant Clean Seed

Need For Planting Clean Seed This Year Is Greater Than Ever Before

You may not always be able to afford finest quality registered seed for planting; but you can always afford clean seed for planting. The seed branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture are urging the planting of clean seed this year more than ever before—clean seed pays, particularly with the weed menace reaching the alarming proportions it does in many parts of Canada today.

There are many effective ways of cleaning seed, depending upon the quantity to be cleaned, location and equipment. If many parts of Canada seed cleaning machinery is readily available for the purpose, while in others suitable screens can be adapted to the fanning mill, and in some of the more remote sections the old pioneer method of wind-cleaning is always available.

Three Hundred Millions Spent By American Tourists In Canada During Year 1929

Hard Legal Problem

English Magistrates Puzzled Over Definition Of "Farmer"

What is a farmer? Hundreds of people who gain their livelihood from their own land in the counties of England are affected by that legal question.

Large sums of money, too, are involved, for dependent on the answer to the problem is the amount of rates which may, or may not, have to be paid by the men and women who consider themselves "farmers" in the legal sense.

Is, for example, a bee-keeper a farmer? Can a keeper of chickens be called a farmer?

One side-of-the-fence has been settled by the Oxfordshire Quarter Sessions in considering a rating appeal—the first case of its kind. The magistrates at the Oxford County Hall decided that a bee-keeper was a farmer, and, as such was entitled to have his home rated as a "farmhouse."

Christopher Bartlett, of Sandford Mount, Charlbury, appealed to the quarter sessions against the assessment of his house, because he was a bee-keeper. His house had been assessed at £100, whereas he maintained that as a farmhouse the assessment should not be more than £40.

"He is the largest bee-farmer in England," said E. Gost, counsel for Mr. Bartlett. "His house has been assessed as a country house, where as it is used by a man who is working an agricultural holding and is therefore a farmhouse in fact."

Dr. Earengy, counsel for the rating authority, and one of the foremost barristers on the Oxford circuit, submitted that bee-keeping was not farming. R. T. Barrie, the rating officer for the Chipping Norton Council, gave evidence that, in his opinion, £100 was the fair and proper assessment for Sandford Mount.

Eventually the magistrates upheld the appeal of Mr. Bartlett, and fixed the assessment of his home at £60—a reduction of £40 from the former rateable value.

A New Society

What is declared to be the hardest-thinking society in the world has been formed in Europe. It is "The Puzzlers' League," and has on its rolls enigma experts, wizards of the cryptogram, the crossword and the charade. The motto of the society is: "Puzzle solving fights off boredom, the greatest enemy of the human race."

Gold from the south washes over the international boundary in great waves as soon as the tourist season begins. The year 1929, for which figures were just made public, was the best on record. Practically 300 millions were spent in Canada last year by tourists.

Canadian tourists in other countries, mainly the United States, were also generous with their cash, keeping in mind the Dominion's small population. One hundred and eleven millions were spent by Canadians in other countries, according to bureau of statistics estimates.

The balance of tourist business in Canada's favor, amounting to some 189 millions, was twice as great as the adverse trade balance (visible balance) for 1929.

The expenditure grows by leaps and bounds. Automobile tourists from the United States spent $29,000,000 more last year than in 1928, and steamer and train tourists another $8,000,000 more.

When tourists' expenditures are added to "visible" trade figures with the United States, expenditures here to exports, and Canadian expenditure there to imports, the present difference of $350,000,000 in favor of the United States is cut in half.

Less than a decade ago (1920) the expenditures of tourists in Canada was calculated at $83,000,000.

Oldest Trainman

Canada's Oldest Trainman Celebrates Birthday at Truro, N.S.

Claiming to be Canada's oldest trainman, Robert Williams, of Truro, N.S., rounded out the ninety-one mark on March 1st. He was born at West River, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, March 1, 1839, and when seventeen years old got a job on the construction of the Nova Scotia Railway. Feeling the call of the sea, he joined a sailing vessel and rounded "The Horn." On a trip from Liverpool, England, with troops for a far-off station, his ship was wrecked while rounding "The Horn," and he was among the 49 saved. Once he fell forty feet from the rigging and broke an arm and also injured an eye. In the early seventies, he decided to give up the sea, and, in 1874, joined the service of the Intercolonial Railway, now part of the Canadian National Railways System, and retired on pension in 1910, at the age of seventy-one.

Russian Bee Stingless

Entomologists Have Proved This After Three Years' Experiment

That everything from Russia is not dangerous was established with the announcement that Russian bees do not sting. This was the result of three years' experimenting at the agricultural station at New Brunswick.

The bees from Russia produce as much honey as Italian bees, but swarm less frequently, it was said. During the entire experimentation period neither Ray Hutton nor B. F. Diggers, entomologists at the station, ever were stung.

DEVELOP PUBLIC OPINION ALONG PEACEFUL LINES

Ottawa, Ont.—Contribution of moneys to Canadian universities for establishment of chairs in international relations is a field in which it might be better for the Dominion Government not to intervene, believes Dr. O. D. Skelton, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs. Dr. Skelton spoke before the House of Commons committee on industrial and international relations.

His comments referred to a resolution of Miss Agnes McPhail (Prog., South East Grey), asking that for every $100 disbursed by the Canadian Government for war, $1 should be spent for promotion of peace. The resolution favors setting up a chair of international relations and institution of international scholarships in each Canadian university.

Cost of establishing such chairs was set at $3,300,000 by Dr. Skelton in answer to a question by A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni).

Dr. Skelton thought that in some cases establishment of chairs of international relations would be desirable, but in most instances he believed it more useful to develop general knowledge of social science.

The question of what the Dominion Government should do in the way of establishing additional scholarships found Dr. Skelton of the opinion that so much having already been done by individual and organized effort, the way was clearly indicated that this system should be continued.

As far as he could see, there were three specific points developed by the parliamentary debate. One was to ascertain how public opinion could be developed to deal with the big task thrust upon the people of Canada and what part the Dominion Government should play in shaping that public opinion. A second was how to train personnel in the conduct of international relations and what part the government should take in the training of that personnel.

The third envisaged the agencies the government should develop for carrying on the immediate and direct tasks of conducting the relations of foreign and inter-imperial governments.

Dr. Skelton felt that the elementary and secondary schools could do much to humanize the training of youth in international matters.

Another element was the press. A survey of the press of Canada, said Dr. Skelton, was not more objective than that published in the press of a great many other countries. The fact that in the past two years there had been established press bureaus in London, Paris and Washington indicated how much the press was contributing to the general knowledge of international matters.

Other factors in developing public opinion were the movies and radio. These were if anything "too international." International travel also furnished many opportunities for broadening the outlook of Canadian people.

Many organizations were doing valuable work. Such were the Association of Canadian Clubs, the Institute of International Relations, the Canadian Problems Society and the League of Nations Society.

Besides all these factors the Dominion Government and parliament did much through the utterances of its members. He did not approve of the Dominion Government entering into organized propaganda with a view to influencing public opinion.

One of the ways in which the government could help would be through aid to the league of nations society. The government might supply material to schools and colleges on international relations, but on the whole the task of developing public opinion was one for voluntary organized effort.

British Coal For Canada

Tonnage Chartered For Trade Says British Minister Of Employment

London, Eng.—Very considerable orders for British anthracite and soft coal have been obtained in Canada, said Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister of employment, in the House of Commons. The minister was questioned by Sir Kingsley Wood, Conservative member for West Woolwich, who asked if anything had been done to secure westbound cargoes for the grain boats coming from the Dominion. Sir Kingsley suggested coal as the most natural article of cargo exchange.

"Yes sir," replied Mr. Thomas quickly, "my information is that very considerable orders for British anthracite and soft coal have been obtained in the Dominion and I am able to announce that a substantial volume of tonnage has been chartered for this trade to commence with the opening of the St. Lawrence to navigation."

Amendment Is Lost

House Of Commons Defeat Amendment To Bill Providing For Divorce Courts

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons defeated the amendment of Thomas Millar, Liberal member for South Huron, to the Woodsworth Bill providing for divorce courts in Ontario, by twenty votes. The vote stood: for 88, against 108.

The amendment expressed regret at the spread of divorce in Canada, and advised a campaign to foster the idea of the sanctity of the home in the Dominion.

After the vote on the amendment, there were calls for a vote on the main motion. Mr. Speaker Lemieux ruled that as the private members' hour had expired, it would not be possible to take this vote if any one objected. George Spott, Conservative, North Huron, objected, so the vote was put over until another sitting.

Calgary Has Glider Club

Rutledge, captain, and H. H. Kenyon, vice-captain, eight directors of the Footbills Glider Club were elected by a meeting of two enthusiasts at the municipal airport. Plans are to purchase a training glider immediately and commence flying early in the coming season.

Airmen Reach Railway

Vance and Blasdale Complete Long Trek Southward

Winnipeg, Man.—Jim Vance and Brian Blasdale, Northern airmen who wintered at Baker Lake, off the west coast of Hudson Bay, have completed a 100-mile trek southward by dog-team. They reached the fringe of civilization March 26, when they entered Gillam, which is Mile 327 on the Hudson Bay Railway, and the farthest north point to which the "Muskeg Limited" is operating along the line to Churchill.

Watson, who confessed to a series of armed robberies in Montreal during the winter; when he appeared in police court here. Overseas Wireless Phone

Direct Wireless Telephone Service Between Canada and Britain Is Contemplated

Ottawa, Ont.—Confirmation of the statement of Hon. H. B. Lees-Smith, British postmaster-general, respecting the contemplated establishment of a direct wireless telephone service between Canada and Great Britain was obtained from officials of the Department of Marine. So far, however, the matter has not gone beyond the negotiation stage.

When the system is established it will operate through the Marconi beam wireless at Drummondville, Que., from where the transmission will be direct to Rugby, England. This circuit has been operating experimentally for the last year. It was employed recently in the broadcast of the naval disarmament conference. Officials were unable to say when the system will be inaugurated commercially.

Opened Exhibition By Radio

Marconi Spoke From Genoa, Italy, To Sydney, Australia

Genoa, Italy.—Short radio waves cutting across the Atlantic, America and the Pacific carried the voice of Marquis Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless, from his yacht Electra here, to Sydney, Australia, to open the electrical exposition there.

Marconi spoke across 11,000 miles to Director J. Fisk, of the electrical association, reading a message which outlined what he intended doing later in the day—transmitting a small unit of power to Sydney in order to close a circuit there and light the electric lamps of the exposition.

West Grows Airminded

Western air mail service between Winnipeg and Calgary—over 800 miles in distance—has been inaugurated recently and the Canadian Pacific Express Company has renewed its contract made in 1928 to carry express packages in addition to the regular mail. This allows of a saving of more than 24 hours between the two cities. The package which pilot W. J. Buchanan is shown delivering to a Canadian Pacific Expressman, was mailed eight hours previously at Calgary and had therefore travelled at the rate of more than 100 miles an hour to reach Winnipeg, its destination.

Millions For Good Roads

Saskatchewan Government Has Ambitious Program For This Season

Regina, Sask.—Nearly seven millions will be spent on Saskatchewan roads this season, it was announced in the legislature by Hon. A. C. Stewart, K.C., Minister of Highways, during the course of the debate on the budget.

The total of $6,852,386 is to be divided as follows: on trunk/highways, $2,963,585; gravel surfacing, $3,371,801; sundry grading, $395,000; colonization roads, $120,000. The latter refers to roads in newer districts of the province, part of the scheme of the new Anderson government.

Mr. Stewart assured the members that there was no intention on the part of the government to create a highways commission or of abandoning the present department of highways. Roads of the province, their construction and maintenance, would remain as they had always done, under the direct control of the minister.

British Companies Interested

May Invest In Oil Fields and Later Build Steel Mill

Calgary, Alberta.—Laying down of a million dollar stock and oil-well drilling and operating equipment in Calgary during the coming summer and later establishment of a steel mill in this city or at Vancouver if the market proves sufficiently attractive are being recommended to the large British financial and manufacturing interests represented by R. A. Raymont. Mr. Raymont has spent some time looking over the market provided by the Turner Valley field.

While declining to give out the names of the British companies which are interested, he stated that they are in a position to handle Canadian business in practically unlimited volume. And it was possible that a merger of a number of well-known firms engaged in the iron and steel manufacturing industry may be formed with a subsidiary Canadian company to handle the business in the Dominion.

Purchase Earncliffe

British Government To Spend $125,000 For High Commissioner's Residence In Canada

London, Eng.—The governmental estimates for the coming year, tabled in the House of Commons, provide the sum of $125,000 for the purchase and adaptation of the British high commissioner's residence in Ottawa, "Earncliffe."

Buildings in use by the diplomatic service will prove rather costly this year. The new Washington embassy will account for the expenditure of $170,000. The Tokyo embassy, destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt at a cost of $330,000. The embassy at Moscow will call for $100,000.

SHORT LINE TO THE PAS WILL BE OPENED SOON

Winnipeg, Man.—Construction work on the Sturgis-Hudson Bay Junction branch line of the Canadian National will be pushed about May 18, and the line will be turned over to the operating department on that date. An announcement to this effect was made by A. E. Warren, western vice-president of the Canadian National.

A very considerable saving in time and distance between Southern Saskatchewan and the Hudson Bay Railway will result with the completion of this line and the opening of it for regular freight and passenger service. Between Regina, Moose Jaw and other southern points in Saskatchewan there will be a lessening of 94.4 miles over the existing route from those centres to The Pas.

Intermediate points such as Melville and Yorkton will also be brought considerably nearer to The Pas and the Hudson Bay Railway.

Until the Sturgis-Hudson Bay Junction line goes into operation the route from Regina to Hudson Bay Junction is via Swan River, a distance of 428.6 miles. The distance by way of the new route which lies through Melville, Yorkton and Canora will be 335 miles.

Passenger and freight train service is now under consideration by the department of the public works. It is not expected that an announcement on train service will be made for a few weeks.

The Sturgis-Hudson Bay Junction line was one of those included in the three-year branch line program which was passed by parliament in 1927. Although it is practically the last item on that program to be completed the date upon which it is to be turned over for operation is more than six months ahead of that set by the bill.

Will Not Resign

Hon. Dr. Godfrey Will Stand Pat Over Famous Postscript Episode

Toronto.—Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health for Ontario, has reiterated his stand that he will not resign because of the public rebuke administered to him in the legislature by Premier G. H. Ferguson, over the now famous "postscript episode." He also denied a rumor that he will take a long vacation. "Both are a pile of dreams," he declared.

It was for his action in adding a postscript to a letter written to a constituent of his in which an application for a mother's allowance, made by a woman residing in Long Branch, was refused.

The postscript reads as follows: "See her if you can and get her support the 30th (election day), and we will be able to take more time with the case."

Jim replied, as he put a generous slice of shortcake on Grandma's plate: "You're right. The committee thought the fireworks would bring a crowd to the supper, and took up a collection for the cause. They got two dollars out of me, and I don't intend to miss the show. I tell you what, Grandma! you needn't miss it, either. I'll take you down in the car soon as it gets dark."

"My soul!" breathed Grandma. "I haven't been out in the evening since I don't know when. I don't want Charman would say, or the doctor either, but, recklessly, 'I'm going to do it. You finish up that shortcake, Jim. It's no good left over and 'twould be a shame to waste it. Charman made it after Emmy Bascom's recipe, and it's worth feeling a little sick next day over. Pour me another cup of tea, son. I must be fortified. I'm going gallivanting all the evening. I haven't got any green hat," she added with a twinkle, "but I'll wear my Sunday bonnet and put Great-grandmother Davis's gray crepe shawl over my coat, so you won't feel ashamed of your company. That shawl came clear from China, and a summer boarder who stopped in one day for a skein of embroidery silk, offered me three hundred dollars for it when she saw it hanging over my chair."

Jim whistled expressively as he arose to clear the table.

"I'd like to see the shawl I'd refuse three hundred for!"

"Go would I," agreed Grandma, "but Charman was mad at the woman for even offering it. She's got the Davis pride. You can set the dishes in the sink, Jimmy; and I'll get ready if you'll help me take into the north room. There's that dog again with another bone! I'd like to see where he's planning to put it, but there isn't time. It looks as if Gypsy was something of a miser; but at any rate, he won't be dependent on his relations in his last age! Here, Jimmy, lend me a hand. I'm all excited."

"So'm I," said Jim, "going out with a new girl this way!"

Grandma chuckled. "Say!" she called, as leaving her at the door of the north room, Jim departed toward the kitchen, "Charman said to leave the dishes in the sink; but you'd better set that pot of butter in the ice-box, and the cream, too. I'll be ready in a jiffy. Maybe I'll be ahead all day tomorrow to pay for it; but what's the use of living if you aren't reckless once in a dog's age?"

"No use at all," grumbled Jim, "and now you've set my feet on the downward path I don't care if I paint the town red. Take your time about getting ready, Grandma. There's not a bit of hurry."

He was still in the kitchen when the old lady appeared at the door again.

"My sakes! you've washed all those dishes!" she exclaimed, "and now, tomorrow, too. You'll make a woman a good husband, Jimmy. I'll say that."

"Aren't you ashamed, vamping a young fellow this way," Jim bawled, as he wiped his hands on the roller towel. "Here, you hang onto me till I get you safe in that car. What'll I do with the door key, Grandma? Take it along!"

"You put it under the door mat, just where anybody who comes along'll know where to look for it," she responded whimsically. "It's a lovely evening, isn't it? I wouldn't mind riding a little way before the fireworks, if we've got time."

"Plenty of time. We'll run round past the Bascoms so you can see Emmy's new windows. They look corking."

Grandma sighed. There it was again—the thing that kept Charman from loving this nice boy. He couldn't see that those big panes of glass no more fitted the old Bascom house than she herself would fit that cheap new bungalow by the station.

"It's time to see Emmy's windows," she replied, as the engine started. "They don't belong in that old house; but I'd admire to ride round the cemetery till it's time for the show. I haven't seen the monument that Deacon Purdie put up for his fourth wife. It's dreadfully expensive burying four wives, Jimmy. I suppose if he'd foreseen how things were going he could have had 'em all engraved on one stone, and saved a sight."

"If he's not careful," Jim responded soberly, "he'll have to invest in a bigger lot or be crowded out himself when his turn comes. They say he's making up to the Widow Moore, over to South Wickfield."

"My stars!" cried Grandma. "She must be thirty years younger than Edgar Purdie, and has got six children!"

"Sure!" smiled Jim, as he slowed up on entering the cemetery gate. "If those kids should all pass out in an epidemic, Grandma, we'd have to call a town meeting and enlarge the cemetery."

"I'm afraid," said the old lady, trying her best to look severe, "that you're making light of serious things, Jim."

"It sure is serious burying a widow!" she said seriously, "but I wish you'd tell me what's engraved on the stone, Jimmy. The deacon always puts on some sentiment. The first one was, 'The price of a good woman is above rubies,' though every one in town knew he'd begrudged the money for the medicine that Edward Howe prescribed in Emma's last sickness. For his second (she was Carrie Hopkins, from over Templeton way, and could stir up as much trouble at a parish meeting as if she'd thrown a hornet's nest into the vestry), he put 'Blessed are peacemakers.' And when Eva, his third, was taken without leaving a friend in Wickfield because of her sharp tongue, he had engraved for her, 'A good name is better than precious ointment.' I declare, Jim, I've been curious to know what he'd say for Sarah. They fought like cats and dogs."

"I'll ally that curiosity in two minutes," promised Jim, as he alighted and crossed the patch of grass on the Purdie lot. He was shaking his head soberly when he returned and said: "It looks to me, Grandma, as if the deacon had run out of Scripture verses and taken to the poets. He says of his last departed, 'A sweeter woman never drew breath.' Can you beat that?"

"No," Grandma admitted gravely. "I can't, and I won't try. Seems sort of like tempting Providence, uttering untruths like that, especially on a tombstone. While I've been sitting here, Jim, it came over me what he might say about Luella Moore, if she was taken first: I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee." What you grinning about, sonny? It would be the truth, which is more'n the others are."

"That's right," said Jim, as he resumed the place beside her. "Or if he wants a change from the Scriptures, he may say, 'I have loved thee, as he says about Sarah, he could just put 'An old man's darling, and be done with it.'"

Grandma endeavored not to laugh, but at last gave way to her natural impulse.

"I ought to be ashamed, thinking such thoughts and letting a boy like you think 'em too," she said regretfully, "but I never could bear Ed Purdie. He was a mean boy, always putting snakes and toads down the girls' backs; and once he hung little Willie Kingsbury down the schoolhouse well by the heels, and the child was never the same again. My! isn't that bed of pansies handsome? It is time for the fireworks to begin!"

"It's time we were finding a place to park; but we mustn't get so near that the sparks will fall on that three-hundred-dollar shawl! You wern enough, Grandma? If I let you take a cold, Charman will give me fits."

"She's liable to have fits herself if she sees me out this time of night," chuckled the old lady. "Let's stop near the church, Jim, so I'll see her face when she comes out and finds me. Here we are at the common, and Ezra Bascom is bringing out a box of fireworks!"

"Fireworks most likely. That's right," as Jim stopped at the head of the Common. "This is a splendid place to see. And there's Charman, and Doctor Carter along with her. Hain't he got fine straight legs, Jimmy? There! he sees us. They're coming this way!"

CHAPTER VIII.

If Jim Bennett had been purely altruistic when he took Grandma Davis to see the fireworks the night before, he was amply repaid when, the old lady safe home again, Charman followed him to his car and detained him with an impulsive hand on his shoulder.

"I'm dear of you, Jim, to give Grandma such a good time," she began ardently. "I don't know how to thank you."

He faced her, and at something in his eyes she dropped the friendly hand that rested on his new, well-fitting coat.

"I don't need any thanks," he said, honestly enough. "Your grandmother's more fun than any one I know—present company excepted. And the shortcake was bully."

"That shortcake? I didn't see you at the church."

He laughed.

Little Helps For This Week

"These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."—Revelations vii. 14.

Constant sunshine, how'er welcome, Ne'er would ripen fruit or flower; Giant oaks owe half their greatness To the scathing tempest's power.

Human strength and human greatness Spring not from life's sunny side; Heroes must be more than drift-wood Floating on a waveless tide.

All the difference there is between what looks like a worthless stone and a gem is in the cutting and the grinding. All the difference between bullion and coin stamped, with the king's face is in the smelting and the minting. All the difference between a wilderness and a garden is wrought by weeding and pruning. All the difference between a block of marble and a statue is produced by the mallet and the chisel. God has for us up, yonder, by and by, I know not what noble ministries and what exalted places of beauty and of power. Since He knows what niche we are to fill, trust Him to shape us to it.—M. J. Savage.

Before Her Baby Came

"I have used several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it helps me wonderfully, especially before childbirth. I have five lovely children. After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. I work outside during the fruit season in addition to my housework."—Mrs. Charles Singland, R.R. #4, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Needless Pain!

Nowadays, people take Aspirin for many kinds of aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works!

And Aspirin tablets are absolutely harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to an Aspirin tablet for relief.

Aspirin is always available, and it never fails to help. Familiarize yourself with its many uses, and avoid a lot of needless suffering.

The schedule of games in the new Basketball League is prepared. It would appear that Edmonton Beach will be the popular playground for most of the games scheduled and probably for quite a number of exhibition games not on schedule. Mr J A Barrie, the genial proprietor of the Beach summer resort, has intimated his intention of donating a cup to be competed for, including all the League games, whether played at the Beach or not. All teams are holding practices in preparation for the opening games, billed for Wed. April 16—Comet v Stony Plain & Walter League v Garden Valley. Muskrat Season Extended

Those trappers who have purchased licenses this season have been puzzled somewhat as to the closing date of the muskrat season, as Mr Lawton's game regulations card showed the season closed April 15, whereas the licenses sold by Mr Lawton's department reads: April 30. To avoid any further difficulty, the Game Warden has extended the closing season to April 30th, thus setting at rest the doubts of license holders.

Michael Enders Passes Away

The funeral took place on Thurs. afternoon of the late Mr Michael Enders, an old time resident of this district, who had passed away Tues. March 25, at the age of 76 years.

Services were held at his late home and at the grave-site by Rev V A Osterman, pastor of St John's Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod), at Blueberry. Interment took place in the graveyard adjoining, and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the family.

He leaves to mourn his loss 4 sons, Matthias, at Carvel; Jacob, in Chicago; Ludwig M at Blueberry; Peter, in Stony Plain; and one daughter, Mrs John Eichenlaub, of Comet district; and four brothers, John, Jacob and Henry, all of Stony Plain district; and Joseph, of San Diego, Calif.

Burns' Bull Ring

Mr H Shiplett, an official of Burns Creamery in Edmonton, has organised a Jersey Bull Ring in this district. The bull is to be quartered at Mr Andrew Jespersen's, just east of Glory Hills school, who now milks 30 cows and has a very fine barn. He will have full charge of the bull. Mr Jespersen is interested in planting sweet clover this season as a hay and pasture crop. He also figures on buying two young Jersey heifers to improve the butter-fat making ability of his herd.

Mr Simon Witmer advised Mr Shiplett that he also wished to get some quality Jersey blood introduced into his herd.

There is a great deal of interest in the Jersey breed in this province at the present time. Farmers who milk them say three will produce fat on the feed of two ordinary cows and also that time is saved twice a day in the milking and separating. The Jersey herd at the University of Alberta Farm produced fat for 15c a pound feed cost.

Speaking on Canada's stake in the Pacific before the Montreal Canadian Club recently, Hon. Newton W. Rowell, vice-chairman of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, took occasion to compliment Canadian Pacific Steamships on their work on that coast. He said: "There are many lines of steamers plying from North America to the Orient and one of the best is S.S. the Canadian Pacific Steamships; there is no other freight and passenger service on the Pacific that to-day is equal to that of the Canadian Pacific Company. We owe a great deal to that institution in developing trade."

Mountain recently, he stated that not only was he sure that there would be 200 British athletes at the games, but that the most would be the biggest of its kind Canada had ever known.

"One of the objects of the visit of the English public school headmasters' party, due to arrive at Saint John aboard S.S. It will consist of 15 headmasters and they will visit nine Canadian universities from the Maritime to British Columbia.
